

TO INVESTIGATE ARLINGTON POST OFFICE SITUATION

Arthur Birch Gives Report at Chamber of Commerce Meeting. Members Hear Assistant District Attorney.

Announces Daughter's Engagement at Tea

At a tea last Saturday afternoon at her home on Old Mystic street, Mrs. Benjamin F. Hickey announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Beth Hickey, to James Blanchard Donaldson, the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. Frank Donaldson of Salem. Receiving with Mrs. Hickey and Miss Hickey was Mrs. Donaldson. Both Mrs. Hickey and Mrs. Donaldson were in black trimmed with silver beading and wore corsages of gardenias while Miss Hickey wore royal blue moss crepe with a corsage of gardenias and posebuds.

The house was lovely with the flowers that had been sent Miss Hickey while over the fireplace was a Christmas wreath. Pink roses decorated the room.

A letter from the fourth assistant postmaster general, Silliman Evans, stating that an investigation would be made of the post office situation here in order to determine whether there is justification for recommending an appropriation for a Federal building, marked the conclusion of the report given by Arthur A. Birch at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday evening in Wyman's English Tavern. The letter was written to Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers and on it was pencilled a note from her, "I am so sorry but shall keep on trying."

Mr. Birch, who is serving the Chamber of Commerce as a committee of one to try to get a new post office for the town, read the letter which he had written Mrs. Rogers asking her to meet with the Chamber on Tuesday evening and to tell why nothing had been done to secure a post office building for Arlington when other towns, not one quarter the size of this, have modern buildings. Mrs. Rogers was unable to accept this invitation because she had to be in Washington.

The letter to Mrs. Rogers announcing the investigation and explaining why Arlington has not already a new post office is as follows:

Post Office Department
Washington
December 21, 1933
Hon. Edith Nourse Rogers,
House of Representatives.
My dear Mrs. Rogers:

Reference is made to your recent visit to this office relative to the construction of a Government building to house Arlington Branch of the Post Office at Boston, Mass. In submitting recommendations for construction of buildings to house stations and branches the Department has found it justifiable to include therein those points where the annual rental exceeds $6,000 annually. The annual rental for the quarters occupied by Arlington Branch is only $5,776 and it has consequently not been included in the recommendations previously made.

We are, however, having an investigation made of the situation at Arlington with a view to determining whether we would be justified in recommending inclusion of a Federal building at that point in the Public Works program under the provisions of the National Recovery Act. It is probable that this investigation

Succeeds in Climb To Mountain Top

William Egan of Park avenue returned to Arlington Wednesday evening after a successful climb to the top of Mt. Washington. He went by train to Crawford Notch last Saturday and from there broke a trail through twenty inches of snow to the base house where he stayed until Sunday morning.

At half past seven, with the thermometer at ten above zero and the wind blowing eighty miles an hour, he left the base house and made his way up the mountain along the cog railway tracks. The going was difficult because in some places drifts were four and five feet deep but he reached the top at half past five.

There he found three Tech men. They had made the ascent the day before when the thermometer was forty-seven degrees below zero. One of them was suffering from frost bite and exhaustion. Four Harvard men brought up a toboggan on Sunday to take him down. Egan helped to rescue one of the Harvard men who became exhausted and had to be pulled to the top on the toboggan.

New Year's Eve, says Egan, was quiet except for the rattle of hail and the roar of the ninety mile wind. Tuesday morning, however, was clear and the view was a beautiful one. He made the descent on Tuesday. He was invited to stay two weeks at the base house but instead he made the return trip to Arlington on Wednesday.

Hold Memorial Service for Captain Knowles

Wednesday evening the commandery of the State of Massachusetts Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States held a memorial service for the late Capt. Alfred H. Knowles. The services were preceded by a dinner at the First Corps Cadet Armory to which a delegation from Arlington Post No. 39, American Legion, was invited.

Rotary District Governor Speaks to Local Club

James J. Golden, Jr., secretary of the Board of Selectmen, was introduced as the latest new member by President Dr. Bruce I. Lawley at the Rotary Club meeting, Wednesday noon, held as usual at the Middlesex Sportsman's Association clubhouse.

During the preliminary singing, some of the other new members, together with Mr. Golden, were called upon to sing two selections, accompanied by Clarence Peterson at the piano and directed by the song leader, Clarence H. Dempsey, superintendent of schools. The other new members were: Loren W. Marsh, Dr. Ezekiel Pratt, William R. Purrier, Dr. Frank H. Gerry and Timothy Vaillancourt.

The guest speaker was Dr. Lester Merritt of Fall River, the governor of the 31st district. He inspired his hearers with the power of Rotary International by describing its internal operations, the influence of the Poland Spring convention last June and by reminding his audience that from the beginning with Paul Harris, the founder, in Chicago there were now 3,624 clubs in 67 countries of the world with a total of approximately 148,000 members.

Dr. Merritt closed his interesting and inspiring address with a powerful plea to support President Roosevelt, who as a Rotarian is carrying out the spirit of the organization in his new deal.

Woman's Club Members Hear Mrs. Le Fevre

Because of a sore throat, Judge Emma Fall Schofield was unable to speak at the meeting of the Arlington Woman's Club in Robbins Memorial Town Hall yesterday afternoon. In her place she sent Mrs. J. Hasbrouck Le Fevre, president of the Business and Professional Women's Republican Club.

Mrs. Le Fevre, who was introduced by the chairman of the Legislation Committee, Mrs. J. Herbert Mead, explained by means of a chart the process of a bill, which may be introduced by any citizen of Massachusetts. She also explained the child labor bill and prison reform bills.

Mrs. Edwin L. Allen, chairman of the Music Committee, had arranged a delightful musical program on which Miss Celia Eames sang folk songs most charmingly.

Miss Grace Gordon Pierce, supervisor of music in the town schools and president of the new Community Symphony Orchestra, spoke

Catch Auto Thief After Car Crash

Sergeant Daniel J. Barry of the Arlington police and Officer Holden of the Belmont police arrested Robert J. Doherty of 77 Oak street, Somerville, in the rear of Judge James P. Parmenter's home on Russell street, Tuesday afternoon after they had chased him from Peirce and Winn's coal yard where the car which he is alleged to have stolen crashed into a fence.

The car, a Cadillac sedan, was stolen in Belmont in the middle of the afternoon. The Belmont police notified Arlington that two youths in the stolen car were headed for Arlington. The car raced along Pleasant street, through the Centre and down Mystic street with the police scout car after it. When the crash came the two young men jumped from it and ran through the back yards in the vicinity. The second young man was not caught.

The sedan was so badly damaged that it had to be towed to a garage.

MONEY AND FOOD GIVEN TO SAVE SPY POND DUCKS

Talents Will Pay Heights Baptist Mortgage

As part of the annual Watch Night Service the Talent Plan for 1933 was brought to a splendid and successful climax. The church was full to capacity when at 9:30 the pastor began the roll-call of the teams. As each captain's name was called he or she came forward with the talents of each team and hung them on a large white cross erected above the altar. When the talents were counted the sum total was announced at the stroke of midnight just at the close of the celebration of the holy communion by candlelight. $1425 had been placed upon the cross, with a small amount added sufficient to pay off the mortgage on the church property. In February on a date to be announced, the mortgage will be burned with appropriate ceremony.

As part of the Watch Night Service Miss Elizabeth Gott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Gott of George street was baptized.

39 Wellington St.
January 3, 1934.

Editor of Arlington Advocate:
Dear Sir: I wish to thank you for your kindness in publishing in the last issue of your paper an appeal for food for the starving ducks in Spy Pond. I received two bags of corn from three friends of the birds, Mrs. Sears, Mr. Hill and Mr. Davis of Pleasant street; also a bag of cracked corn from a lady whose name I have failed to get. Allow me to thank her for her gift through the medium of your paper. Your article also caused many of the town residents to bring food and feed the ducks themselves.

We had the Animal Rescue League out the other day. They fed the birds and removed two from the pond which were in a bad state. Some good friend has collected a lot of Christmas trees and placed there as a shelter for the birds. We have food enough for them for the next month and after that will call upon your much esteemed paper to give the ducks another boost.

Yours respectfully,
Louis C. Taylor.

ADVISORY COUNCIL NAMED FOR SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Many Tickets Already Sold for Concert to be Given in Hall January Fourteenth.

FIRE DESTROYS TAPPAN HOUSE ON MASS. AVE.

Old Homestead Guttled on Coldest Day.

Shortly before noon on Friday the Fire Department was called out by an alarm for a fire in the Daniel L. Tappan homestead at 296 Massachusetts avenue. The crowd, which was kept small by the extreme cold, did not see much flame, but the fire had spread all through the partitions of the house before the firemen arrived, and finally did so much damage to the frame that the insurance company called it a total loss.

On the following morning, less than twenty-four hours after the alarm sounded, the entire loss which amounted to $10,250, had been settled through the office of Geo. Y. Wellington & Son Inc., local insurance agents.

From the outside the house does not appear to be seriously damaged except for the attic and roof, but that which remained standing is just a shell. It is thought that it will probably be necessary to tear the old building down and rebuild. But in spite of that, through the efforts of the Fire Department, the loss on the furniture was relatively slight. It is estimated at less than fifty percent. It was called a good stop and the salvaging of furniture extraordinary.

The flames did not leak out to any considerable extent, but the pillar of smoke and steam could be seen from almost any point in the town. Many people were attracted, but few stayed very long, with the thermometer hovering around seventeen degrees below zero. The firemen, on the other hand, had to stay. And the polar weather did not help them a bit. Extreme care had to be exercised that the water from the hoses did not freeze before it hit the flame.

(The Advisory Council for the Community Symphony Orchestra has been named. The members of this council are public spirited citizens who have paid into the orchestra treasury not less than ten dollars in return for which they will receive two tickets for each of the three concerts.)

On the list, to which other names may be added, are the following: Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bailey, Judge and Mrs. John G. Brackett, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burhard, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. Eben Dewing, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Elwell, Miss Edith Fox, Edward S. Fessenden, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Green, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hilliard, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hornblower, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lannefeld, Dr. and Mrs. Bruce I. Lawley, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Muier, Miss Sarah Niles, Misses Grace and Elsie Parker, Miss Grace Gordon Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Phinney, Dr. and Mrs. D. T. Percy, Mr. and Mrs. Duane F. Phelps, Dr. and Mrs. E. P. Stickney and Mrs. Grace Whittemore.

Already a large number of the tickets for the concert which the orchestra will give in Robbins Memorial Town Hall.

Selectmen Appoint Police as Agents

Tuesday evening the Selectmen appointed Chief Archie F. Bullock and the Police Department officers as agents of the board to enforce Chapter 120 of the acts of 1933 by preventing the sale of all liquors whose alcoholic content is over 3.2%. It is the intention of the Selectmen to stop the sale of all liquors stronger than this.

At the same meeting Chief Bullock was authorized to purchase a new scout car, turning in a 1932 Ford which has been driven 57,000 miles.

Settled!

On Friday morning at 10:30 the Tappan homestead was completely gutted by fire. On Saturday morning, less than 24 hours later, satisfactory adjustment was completed by this office.

There is a similar fire in someone's home every four minutes throughout the United States or 360 residence fires every 24 hours.

Your insurance may be in perfect condition to meet the strain of fire and it may not be. After the fire is no time to learn that your insurance is not adequate.

DEATHS

REV. JOHN G. TAYLOR

Rev. John G. Taylor, pastor emeritus of the Park Avenue Congregational church and for many years its minister, passed away last Friday at the home of his daughter, Miss Elizabeth Taylor, at Centerville, Cape Cod, after a long illness.

Mr. Taylor was born in England, November 12, 1844. He came to this country as a boy and lived in the west, receiving his education at the University of Wisconsin and later studying for the ministry at Andover. While at Andover he preached at the First Congregational church in Melrose. When he was ordained he was called there and remained as pastor for twenty years.

It was after spending the next three years in California that he came to Arlington. For fifteen years, until his retirement at the age of seventy, he was minister of the Park Avenue church. He was a great friend of the late Rev. Samuel C. Bashnell who was minister of the Orthodox Congregational church. He loved tramping and there is hardly a mountain of the White Mountains, Kansas over which he has not tramped. For several years he was a constant contributor to the columns of the Advocate, writing on both religious and secular subjects.

After his retirement he occasionally occupied his former pulpit as well as other pulpits in the vicinity. The family lived on Whittemore street after moving from the Heights and Mr. Taylor was a familiar figure on Arlington streets.

Besides his daughter, he is survived by two sons, John MacIntyre Taylor of Wellesley and H. Winthrop Taylor of Danvers.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Park Avenue church. Rev. Daniel Evans, D. D., of the Andover-Newton Theological school, who conducted the services, was assisted by Rev. Harold L. Stratton, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational church in Worcester and former pastor of the Park Avenue church, and by the Rev. Clifford O. Simpson, the present pastor. Many other clergymen attended the services. The pall bearers were J. Howard Hayes, Edward Nicoll, Herbert A. Snow, and Richard O. Jenkins. Burial was in the family lot in Mt. Auburn cemetery, Cambridge.

FRANK H. WALKER

Arlington people gathered Wednesday afternoon in the Orthodox Congregational church to do honor to Frank Herbert Walker. Honor, said Rev. Laurence L. Barber, who conducted the services, not to a shattered column but to a finely chiseled shaft. Born in Vermont, Mr. Walker stood for rugged honesty and hard right rather than for easy wrong. The dominant note in his character was his unusual friendliness, his self-forgetting service to public institutions, to the town and the church. His was a life of song; he loved music and to sing informally. "The Singer", Mr. Barber concluded, "passes; the song never dies."

During the gathering of friends and during the service, Miss Alice M. Shepard, the church organist played Mr. Walker's favorite hymns.

Serving as honorary bearers were James A. Bailey, Charles A. Hardy, Harry Hayes, Albert W. Hilliard, Herbert C. Moseley, Jackson W. Osborne, Arthur D. Saul and Ralph N. Smith, all of Arlington; John F. Barry of Waban, John A. Maddocks of Winchester and Philip J. Teel of Medford. The ushers were Frank A. Benham, Eben F. Dewing, Dr. Frank L. Eames, Dr. Ernest M. Fisher and Walter J. Vaughn, all of Arlington; Ralph T. Damon of Winchester and Chester O. Fleischer of Belmont. Burial was in the family lot in Mount Auburn cemetery.

Mr. Walker, who had been for eighteen years a resident of Arlington and for more than forty years a Boston broker, died suddenly of a heart attack on New Year's day at his home, 8 Ravine street. He was born in Burlington, Vt., August 3, 1874, the son of George and Carrie Dorr Walker. He had been connected with Curtis and Sanger of Boston for thirty-nine years, until 1931, when he became associated with Elmer H. Bright & Company, bankers, of Boston.

He always took an active interest in town affairs and had served on the Finance Committee, on building and other town committees. He was a trustee of the Symmes Arlington Hospital and a director of the Menotomy Trust Company as well as of the Medford National bank. He was a member of Hiram Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of the Orthodox Congregational church, and of the Winchester Country Club. Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Lucy Sears Walker, a daughter, Mrs. Paul Voneck (Alice Walker) of Cambridge; a son, Sears Walker, and a sister, Mrs. W. S. Cannell of Oak Knoll.

—Miss Martha Lawley, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Brace I. Lawley, of 25 Endicott road, returned to East Northfield Tuesday for the opening of Northfield Seminary following the Christmas holidays.

DR. JULIA TOLMAN

Dr. Julia Tolman passed away New Year's Day at her home, 695 Massachusetts avenue. Until last summer when she was stricken with paralysis, she had been actively engaged in her profession, which she had practiced here for nearly fifty years. She had recovered sufficiently from her summer's illness so that this fall she was able to be about and enjoy many of the things which gave her pleasure, one of which was attendance at church. A few weeks ago she was again stricken and never rallied.

Dr. Tolman was born in Tewksbury, April 24, 1853. She was graduated from Vassar College in 1876 and studied medicine at the University of Michigan, graduating in 1884. She served a year as an interne in the New England Hospital for Women in Boston and then began the practice of medicine here. She was formerly active in the Symmes Arlington Hospital. She was a member of the Arlington Woman's Club, the Twentieth Century Club, and the Massachusetts Medical Society. She is survived only by three cousins.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon in her late home. Burial was in the family lot in Tewksbury.

Rev. and Mrs. Barber Hold New Year's Reception

On New Year's afternoon and evening, Rev. and Mrs. Laurence L. Barber held an informal reception at the Orthodox Congregational church for members of the parish and other Arlington friends. This was their annual custom and during the afternoon and evening, dozens of the parishioners attended. Two of the rooms in the church vestry were decorated for the occasion with Christmas greens and tinsel, giving an appropriate holiday appearance. Both afternoon and evening Mr. and Mrs. Barber were assisted in receiving by various individuals and officials of the parish.

The committee in charge of decorating was Mrs. Roscoe Patten's group of the Bradshaw Friendly Union, with Clarence R. Day and Dr. Ralph B. Lancaster aiding.

The attractively arranged tea table was in charge of Mrs. Keller's group with the following helpers: pouring, Mrs. Harold Mann, Mrs. Val Hanson, Mrs. William Banton, Mrs. Adrian Keller, serving, Mrs. Carroll Beers, Mrs. Earl Clarke, Mrs. Alexander Buchanan, Mrs. Stanley West, Mrs. George Rees, Miss Phyllis Banton and Miss Phyllis Rees.

Stoddard Sampson Company Takes Consulting Partner

The firm of Stoddard Sampson Company, of which Arthur W. Sampson of 21 Cliff street is a partner, has announced that as of January 1, W. B. Weissblatt, for the last two years assistant to the president of the President Suspender Company, has joined them as a special consulting partner. Added to the staff is Eugene L. Bellis, formerly copy writer for Cecil, Warwick and Cecil, Inc., and later technical assistant in the John Price Jones Corporation. John H. Porter of Cambridge has also joined the staff of this firm. William Leavitt Stoddard of the firm is a well known resident of Belmont.

Two Brothers Married Last Sunday Afternoon

Two brothers—Francis O'Neill and Gerald Joseph O'Neill, the sons of Mrs. James D. O'Neill of 17 Linwood street—were married Sunday afternoon.

The wedding of Francis and Miss Madeline Harrington, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harrington of the Gregory Court apartments, took place in St. Agnes rectory with Rev. Matthew J. Flaherty performing the ceremony.

The bride wore a blue travelling suit trimmed with squirrel. Her hat and accessories were blue and her corsage was of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Crawford Combs of Alfred road, who likewise wore blue with matching hat and accessories. Her corsage was of carnations. Edward O'Neill acted as his brother's best man.

Following the ceremony a reception for the immediate families was held in the Martha Washington room of the Hotel Commodore.

Both bride and groom are graduates of Arlington High School. The bride studied at Harvard and the groom at Bentley School of Accounting. They have gone to New York on their wedding trip and will make their home at Gregory Court on their return the last of this week.

Miss Josephine O'Brien, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy O'Brien of Watertown, and Gerald Joseph O'Neill were married in Watertown with a reception at the bride's home following the ceremony. Mr. O'Neill is also an Arlington High School graduate. He attended the Copley Art School. The couple will live in Watertown.

Funeral of A. A. Lawson At Mt. Auburn Chapel

Funeral services for Arthur A. Lawson of 13 Ravine street which were held Friday afternoon at Mt. Auburn Chapel, were attended by many Arlington people. Rev. John Nicol Mark, minister of the First Parish church, and Rev. Frederic Gill, D. D., minister emeritus, officiated. Many Boston insurance companies were represented by delegations.

The honorary bearers were Ernest H. Blake of Wellesley, Rudolph Burrough of Waban, Gerald Henderson of Wayland and Herbert A. Kneeland of Brookline, partners of Mr. Lawson in John C. Paige & Company. Walter W. O'Hara of Cohasset, John W. Downs, Frank H. Hubbard, Frank V. Noyes, Ralph Smith and John L. Taylor, all of Arlington. The body was placed in the vault at Mt. Auburn.

Romanesque and Gothic Discussed at Study Club

At the meeting of the Arlington Heights Study Club which was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. W. Churchill, 3 Cliff street, Mrs. Fred J. Young read a paper in which she discussed the outstanding characteristics of Romanesque architecture in Italy, France, Germany and England. Mrs. J. A. Garlepy, chairman of the Program Committee, described the spread of Christianity during the Middle Ages, its result in Gothic church construction, and the outstanding characteristics of Gothic architecture.

Mrs. Edward L. Shinn spoke of Gothic cathedral construction. In general, she gave a detailed description of the western facade of Notre Dame, Paris, and of the cathedral at Amiens, Reims and Chartres. Her talk was illustrated by very beautiful pictures from the Boston Art Museum, showing both exterior and interior views of these cathedrals.

The Hospitality Committee, whose chairman is Mrs. George T. Standbridge, served tea. The asisting hostesses were Mrs. Foster P. Doane and Mrs. F. C. Monow.

At the business meeting which preceded the papers, the president, Mrs. Franklin P. Hawkes, presided. There was a discussion of plans for the scholarship bridge which will be held January 23rd in the Park Avenue Congregational Parish House. Tickets have already been issued by the committee, whose chairman is Mrs. George L. Parker. It will be a desert bidge and the hour set for it is half past one.

TREE LIGHTS SHORT CIRCUIT CAUSES SERIOUS FIRE

A short circuit in the Christmas tree electric lighting system caused a serious fire last Saturday afternoon in the home of Henry A. Lydecker, 355 Mystic street. The living room where the tree stood was a mass of flames when the firemen arrived.

Not only were the tree and the toys around it destroyed but much damage was done to the living room and the sun parlor. It is estimated by Mr. Lydecker at $2500.

Gives Annual New Year's Party for Sunshine Club

Mrs. Isabel C. Partridge gave her annual New Year's party for the Sunshine Club last Saturday afternoon at her home on Claremont avenue. This is the thirty-sixth time that the club has gathered at her home. Last Saturday the occasion was an especially pleasant one because of the large number of past and present members who attended.

The hostess spoke of the four members who have died since the last gathering, after which she recited two poems, one in memory of the dear ones who have gone. During the afternoon refreshments were served from a beautifully decorated table. The afternoon closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

His book, "Years of Tumult—the World Since 1918", paints a spirited picture of events of that period. The three sections of the book—the Versailles Peace, Individual Nations and Resultant World Disunion—make much clearer the confused world politics of today. Mr. Powers has made an exhaustive study of our relations in the Far East and is an authority on these subjects.

The meeting will be an open one. The club has invited the International Relations Committee of the Woman's Club to attend and would like to extend an invitation to all those interested in learning more about these problems. This offers an unusual opportunity to hear a comprehensive talk as Mr. Powers is not only an exceptional speaker but has a thorough knowledge of his subject.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"God" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 7.

The Golden Text is: "O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, that dwellest between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth: thou hast made heaven and earth" (Isaiah 37:16).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Oh that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men! For he satisfieth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodness" (Psalms 107: 8, 9).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is not moved by the breath of praise to do more than He has already done, nor can the infinite do less than bestow all good, since He is unchanging wisdom and Love" (p. 2.)

MARRIAGES*WINNER—HUNT

The Christmas evergreen decorations in the Church of Our Saviour together with white chrysanthemums and white roses made a particularly lovely setting for the wedding of Miss Virginia Hunt and John Kester Winner which took place there on the afternoon of New Year's day. The double ring ceremony was performed by the rector, Rev. Warren N. Bixby. Edward McCloskey, a classmate of Mr. Winner, played organ selections while the guests were assembling, and the wedding marchers from Lohengrin and Midsummer Night's Dream.

The bride was charming in white transparent velvet trimmed with seed pearls. Her tulle veil was trimmed with seed pearls and orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Attending her as maid of honor was her cousin, Miss Ruth Schliephake of Newton and as bridesmaids, Miss Olga Dodds of Milton and Miss Grace Fleming of Cambridge. The maid of honor was in coral velvet and the bridesmaids in Bartlett green velvet. All of the attendants carried tallsmen roses.

W. Parker Wood of Jason street was the best man. The ushers were Edward Stevens of Malden and Bert Schon of Jason street.

Following the ceremony there was a reception for the bridal party and the families at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil M. Hunt, 55 Lake street. Here evergreens made a delightful background for the candles which lighted the house. The bride and groom were assisted in receiving by their mothers. Out of town guests were Mrs. Hunt's sister, Mrs. Bernhard Boch of Philadelphia; Mr. Hunt's cousin, Mrs. George Raynes of Yarmouth, Me., and her daughter, Miss Mabel Raynes, and Mr. Winner's aunts, Miss Grace Winner and Mrs. Sarah Harmes of Pleasant Mount, Pa.

The bride graduated from Arlington High School in 1926 and afterwards attended Massachusetts School of Art. She was a student of dramatics all through school and was for two seasons on the professional stage. For the past four years she has been a teacher of dramatics and intends to continue her classes. She is an active member of the Friends of the Drama.

Mr. Winner, who is the son of Mrs. Charles F. Winner of 14 Jason street and the late Dr. Charles F. Winner, is also an Arlington High School graduate, being a member of the class of '23. He attended Bowdoin College and is now connected with the Equitable Life Assurance Society as a life underwriter. He is a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon, treasurer of the Friends of the Drama, and a civic member of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. and Mrs. Winner have gone on a wedding trip. They will be at home at 10 Jason street after January 15th.

JACOBS—DESILLIER

A holiday wedding was that of Miss Irene Louise Desillier, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Desillier of 20 Marathon street, and Bernard Charles Jacobs, Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Jacobs of 12 Hill street, Somerville. The double ring ceremony was performed in Our Lady of Pity Church, North Cambridge, Monday afternoon, by Rev. Mr. Millet. The church was beautifully decorated with poinsettias and calla lilies and lighted by candles. "Ave Maria" and "O Promise Me" were sung.

The bride's gown of ivory satin was made with a train. She wore an ivory tulle turban with a shoulder length veil with matching satin sandals and gloves and carried a spray of calla lilies. Attending her as maid of honor was the sister of the bridegroom, Miss Esther Jacobs, while Miss Jacobs' fiancé, Elmer Stephens of Somerville, acted as best man. Miss Jacobs wore a gown of shell pink satin with a blue velvet turban and blue shoes. She carried a bouquet of small pink rosebuds, accented with blue larkspur. The ushers were Joseph McKenna of Somerville and Jack Sherlock of Providence, R. I.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents was attended by a hundred friends. After a wedding trip the young couple will live at 20 Marathon street.

The bride is a graduate of Arlington High School, '31, and of Business College, '32. Mr. Jacobs, who graduated from Somerville High School in 1928, was the announcer of the Arlington Community Program that was broadcast Wednesday evenings.

Miss Florence E. Frost of Appleton street returned home this week from Wolfeboro, N. H., where she has been the guest of Mrs. Herbert E. Sargent.

"A SWEET THING"

Music, like sunrise, sunset, "the wind over the heath," is what George Borrow calls one of the "sweet things" of life. Unlike sunrise, sunset and the wind we do not all have the opportunity to enjoy it. And for its intelligent appreciation we need such opportunities. If we are to enjoy good music we must hear it often, just as, in order to enjoy the masterpieces of literature we must accustom ourselves to reading well written English.

Someone has made the measure of a man's culture the number of stimuli to which he responds. To his enjoyment of life the same measure may be applied, for the more of life's "sweet things" we are capable of appreciating the deeper and fuller is our happiness here.

That is one reason why we consider the formation of the Community Symphony Orchestra which will give its first concert a week from Sunday afternoon, an event of first importance to the town. It will give us an opportunity to hear beautiful music well played in our own town at small cost. This should mean much both to those who already appreciate good music and to those who would cultivate its appreciation.

But that is far from the whole story. Musicians, like the rest of us, have suffered from the depression. Their loss in actual earnings has been greater than that of many of us. Probably they have suffered spiritually more than many of us. We all feel the need for self expression, but not all of us have the power. Musicians are fortunate in having the power not only to express themselves, but to so express themselves that they give pleasure to others. This means, however, that having acquired the habit and the means of such expression, their necessity for exercising it is even greater.

All of the orchestra members give their services and give them enthusiastically. They are glad to spend long hours in rehearsal and in practice in preparation for rehearsal. They are happy in the opportunity to work pay has nothing to do with it. Indeed many of them have expressed gratitude for this opportunity. One man, who has had no work for some time, said that he was glad because it gave him something to think about.

Our excellent schools have made our town a desirable place of residence. Important in them is the music. Indeed, just because of the opportunities offered for the study of music, families have come here to make their homes. Such motives are in themselves assurance that the members of these families will be desirable citizens.

The orchestra will be a continuation of the school music, a graduate school for those who were members of the High School orchestra and who otherwise would have no chance to exercise the ability they have acquired. It will mean community music as well as school music.

Already many have shown their realization of the project's importance by giving it their support. That the school supervisor of music should head the orchestra organization seems natural to those who know Miss Pierce's love and enthusiasm for music. In this case she is actuated not only by that love and enthusiasm but by a personal interest in the members of the orchestra, forty-eight of whom are Arlington residents and so, in all probability, her former pupils. She hopes, too, that a practical result will be an increased interest among her school musicians in wood wind and brass instruments which are now neglected because there is no use for them after school is finished. She sees in the orchestra an incentive for music throughout the town.

Members of the Advisory Council have shown their faith in the orchestra's value to the community by the generous support that they have given. All of us may not be able to give so generously. We should, however, do all that we can to assure the continuance of an asset so valuable both to ourselves and to the community.

Here and There

Belmont goes dry! Thus it is announced that Arlington is not the only town to remain on the dry side of the fence. Local dry workers will be pleased that the cause appears to be so strong in this particular section. Would-be Arlington liquor dealers should be happy, too, for after all, misery really does love company. Indications point to a dry belt consisting of Belmont, Arlington and Winchester to act as a dam between the wet cities of Somerville and Cambridge and the drenched town of Lexington. The flood danger has been alleviated.

"The new year is opening contentedly," says this week's mail of letter published by Hornblower & Weeks. "With the advent of the year 1934 there is a considerable amount of satisfaction and encouragement to be derived from the fact that a significant portion of the gains registered in the economic situation during the first half of the year 1933 were retained through the last half. The underlying forces largely responsible for the progress made during 1933 would continue for a sustained improvement in economic conditions during the year 1934."

The letter goes on to give credit for improvement to the President's reconstruction program in which the NRA is a factor. But as yet no blue-ribbon seems to have done little to ward raising prices in the printing industry. Taxpayers will be happy to learn that the cost of printing the annual report of the town departments will be even less this year than last.

The Selectmen announced this week that the printing contract had been awarded to the Hampshire Press for the remarkably low figure of $2.09 per page. Last year the job went for $2.19 per page to E. L. Grimes. Since then labor costs are supposed to have increased because of the NRA and paper costs have actually doubled. Last year the Advocate lost the race for the job by a nose, but this time we, your local printers, were not even in the running. General Johnson, take notice.

Speaking of recent inundations of spirits, liquors, Francis Chamberlain of Lexington had a timely ad in the Advocate a little while ago. It said, "Anyone wishing to learn the latest methods of navigation may do so by joining his class."

There was a fire this week in the home of Henry A. Lydecker at 255 Mystic street. It was caused by a short circuit in the tree lighting system. A few seconds after the tree went up like a torch the whole room was ablaze, and Mr. Lydecker had been quite badly burned in his efforts to put out the fire. The Department was called, of course, and the men made short work of the thing, using, according to Mr. Lydecker, a minimum of water.

After the flames had been quenched the firemen really went to work. They first administered first aid to their host and then got out the mops and sopped up the excess water so that the outlook was not half so bad when they were through, in spite of the fact that things were still pretty black.

The injured house owner said that he had never seen such courteous efficiency in his life. The Tappan fire showed up the Department at its best, also. The Arlington E. D. may have "as many generals as the Mexican army," but at least they are good generals. We thought it quite amusing when the Mexican Consul demanded an apology for the above quoted remark which was made before the Arlington Chamber of Commerce. Wonder what would have happened if its author, Ernest W. Davis, had refused to respond?

had caused a severe situation if the late Advocate subscribers had called them on the phone instead of us.

The sports columnists have been writing quite a little about the Columbia-Stanford game which Columbia won on New Year's Day. We got a big kick out of that marvelous battle ourselves, especially after an argument with a fellow who claimed before the contest that Columbia was putrid because she had a tight squeak with Cornell.

Before the game the writers were all saying that wet weather would turn Columbia's defeat into a rout because of Stanford's power and heel and because of Columbia's dependence upon speed and deception. But after the game, which was played in the proverbial sea of mud, western writers sobbed that Stanford had been licked because the boys were not used to handling a wet ball or wearing long mud cleats.

Arthur Samson of the Herald answers this by pointing out the fact that Stanford did play one game last fall which required the use of mud cleats, while Columbia did not encounter a single rainy Saturday. However, the eastern boys found the mud cleats an encumbrance and between the halves changed to the short ones.

We wonder whether Mr. Samson did not have his tongue in his cheek when he wrote that. We would be the last one to belittle the performance of the eastern team after those epic mudline stands, but Mr. Samson forgot to mention that the Columbia preskin toters probably practiced in the rain and on a wet field about half the time last fall, even if the sun was shining every Saturday. They knew how to handle a wet ball and wear mud cleats all right.

Whether they know it or not, the Supt. of Streets and his men have frequent thanks from the dwellers of the town for their early and constant attention during and after snow storms. Newcomers and strangers marvel at Arlington and its diligence on snow removal.

Mr. Eugene Meade put in an appearance on New Year's Day and was sworn in as chief of police by the Town Clerk. The town had agreed to pay him $7000 per year as chief of police, and his pay as junior of Town Hall, ringing bell etc., will be $4.00 a trifle more than formerly paid, but this seems to the town his whole time, while Mr. Hartwell gave the town what he could spare after attending to his undertaking business.

At the jolly party in the Unitarian vestry Tuesday night the following children received awards for perfect attendance: Esther Bailey, Helen Hopkins, Agnes Damon, Ethel Homer, J. Winnie Bailey, Fred Wyman, Isabelle Russell, Edith Whittemore, Fred Damon, Geo. Winn, Edward Schwamb, Geo. Clark, Eddie Bailey, Lottie Carter, Florence Osborn, A. Josie Russell, Louisa Russell, Clarence Robbins, Louis Clark, Geo. Shirley, James Bailey, Geo. Hewes, Geo. On the evening of New Year's Day Mr. Arthur H. Richardson, eldest son of Capt. George E. Richardson, was united in wedlock with Miss Cora, the daughter of David P. Green, Esq., at the handsome residence of the bride's father on Pleasant street.

Today we issue Vol. XIII, No. 1, and enter upon another year of journalistic life, hoping, of course, for fifty-two weeks of health for self and family and prosperity on this our business, yet content to receive that which shall be our portion.

SOLEMN DUTY TO VOTE FOR BEST CANDIDATE

To the Editor of the Arlington Advocate:

The month of March, which by the way is not too distant, will again bring that day which provides the citizens of Arlington with the opportunity to exercise their right of suffrage, the opportunity to establish the right of certain respected citizens to occupy those positions of trust and responsibility which are essential to the proper administration of the affairs of the Town. With the advent of the names of candidates, some suggested by groups of citizens designating themselves as Committees, and some self-nomined in the last analysis, the final selections must be made through the exercise of the sober judgment of the citizens themselves.

This judgment should not be at the snap variety, but a judgment based upon a nucleus of facts, with which the citizen should acquaint himself or herself, not at the last moment, but as early in the campaign as possible. The coming campaign, by its inception at an early date, provides an excellent opportunity to acquire these facts, scrutinize them carefully, and then, when the times comes, VOTE. And the word vote, used here in its verbal sense, is not ambiguous, but conveys a single meaning, is easily interpreted, and each and every citizen should recognize therein a solemn duty, making all other matters secondary in importance. ARLINGTON ASKS HER CITIZENS TO SO RECOGNIZE IT.

In the selection from the lists of candidates, the Good Fellow type may be eliminated, that is if that be the sole extent of his qualifications, and if he really is a Good Fellow, he will not take it seriously to heart, and he will still retain the respect of his fellow citizens.

This casts the field for the candidate who possesses the real and necessary qualifications for the holding of the office. Perhaps these qualifications may be summarized up as follows: Previous experience in positions of consequence combined with honesty and integrity. With these an avowed purpose to conscientiously and unselfishly perform his duty as he sees it, not merely contenting himself with the honors attached to the office, but rather considering the office to be a vantage point, whence comes the opportunity to serve, not a few, not any one or two groups of citizens, but the entire community. Such at least, are the qualifications which surround one of the candidates for the office of Selectman. He has been a faithful servant of the citizens for years. Our problems have been his problems and he has been just one among us in endeavoring to search out the most satisfactory solutions. With an unflinching devotion to a sworn duty, no matter how disagreeable may have been the performance thereof, and no matter how much criticism may have been heaped upon him, his earnest endeavor, ignoring prejudice, to reach conclusions beneficial to the whole community, proves conclusively that he possesses characteristics which are an asset to the Town. That he will bring these characteristics to the office of Selectman, we may accept as a foregone conclusion. And now to you who have read this letter. You may have already guessed the name of the candidate. If you have, you have identified him simply by this citation of these qualifications (for his name has not been mentioned) qualifications which you recognize as belonging to him and which you, as a good citizen, are bound to respect, and so doing record your vote for Ernest W. Davis for Selectman.

Dr. Hsieh to Speak in Town Hall Next Friday

Dr. Teh-hsi Hsieh, Chinese patriot and leader, will speak in Robbins Memorial Town Hall next Friday evening under the auspices of the First Universalist Society. He will discuss his topic "Give Tomorrow's Thought Today" (America's Opportunity).

Dr. Hsieh, who has been called the "Teh-hsi Roosevelt of China," is a brilliant orator, a master of the English language and a student of world affairs. He is able to use English not only brilliantly but idiomatically. Not only is he eloquent, but witty as well. He knows world conditions and is able to present his knowledge both entertainingly and convincingly. In particular, he has an understanding of Chinese affairs which he is able to convey to his audience.

Junior Garden Club Has Regular Meeting

The Junior Garden Club met last Friday as usual, and six members braved the bitter cold to attend. Because of the small number present, the members' own program was omitted, and there was a general discussion of various subjects instead.

Evelyn Farley gave the Flower Biography on the Zinnia, and Carl Mellin and Elaine Twitchell received their Garden Notebooks for seven projects accomplished.

The next meeting, January 12th, instead of being a talk on "Ants", as scheduled, will be a craft meeting when members will make Bird Houses. Each member please bring a hammer and scissors.

The club will be one year old on January 6th, therefore the 12th will be a birthday meeting with a surprise in store.

Junior Civic League Meets at Fire Station

On December 21, the Arlington Junior Civic League held its meeting in the Highland Fire Station at the invitation of Chief Tierney who was their speaker at the previous meeting. The meeting was held in an upstairs room, and presided over by President Ralph Anderson.

After a short business meeting, Captain Kennedy conducted the members on a tour of inspection of the station.

This league meets on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. The next meeting will be held in the usual place, Room 51 at the High School.

It will be given next Friday evening at the Junior High East. With a cast of 100, including three lines of dancing girls, six endmen and over twenty-five specialties, members of the club are working to put out a book worthy of the big show. Leading merchants have cooperated by advertising and assistance has been rendered by the Jefferson Club of Cambridge.

The show consists of minstrel and cabaret, after which there will be dancing. Among the dancing girls are Helen Hogan, Lillian Hendee, Grace Gavin, Pauline and Dorothy Joy, Laura O'Connor, Barbara Russell, and Lena Barry. Endmen are Eddie and Vin Harkins, Hugh Graham, Hy Arbetter, Bill Murray and Frank O'Neill, interlocutor, Movses M. Movsessian, president of the alumni.

Pupils of Miss Hallisey's dancing classes will give novelty numbers throughout the performance. Miss Hallisey will make her appearance in an original conception of the new "Carioca" tango with Mr. Albert Movsessian.

Zonta Members Hear Talk by Clifford Cook

At the regular meeting of the Arlington Zonta Club last week Thursday, the speaker was Clifford W. Cook, head of the town welfare department. Mr. Cook outlined the work of his department and also told something about the C. W. A. work.

Last night the club held a bridge party in the recreation hall of the Arlington Gas Light Company. Miss Nora Brown was chairman of the committee in charge. Her helpers were Mrs. Grace D. Curry and Miss Isabel Gratto.

Hudson-Essex Service Station Repairs All Cars

While repairs on all types of cars are made by the Hudson-Essex Service Station, 10 Mill Street, they specialize in Hudson and Essex cars.
The importance of going to a factory authorized service station cannot be over-emphasized. This recognition by the maker of the car is your assurance that the maintenance of the car has a complete knowledge of the car, so necessary in reducing the time required and the cost of making the repairs. It also means that only genuine parts are used, a fact that must not be overlooked.
At this time of year, every car owner should have his car looked over to see that everything is in perfect working order. This check-up may save an expensive tow-in or repair job on the road, either of which will completely spoil the best planned motor trip.
The Hudson-Essex Service Station employs experienced and skillful auto mechanics who know their trade and can render prompt and efficient service. The cost is reasonable. They render all-around motor repair service which will keep one's car in good condition during the winter driving period.

Let's be Comfortable with Silent Glow Oil Burner

The Personal Oil Burner Service Company, located at 1310 Massachusetts Avenue, Arlington Heights, sells and installs the Silent Glow Oil Burners, and features service on any make of oil burner. Mr. Loycano, proprietor of the Personal Oil Burner Service Company, has had eight years' experience serving oil burners.
Comfort is not just a matter of keeping a room at the right temperature, though that's important. You can't be comfortable if you're constantly fussing with a fire, lugging coal and ashes, bringing in kindling.
Any parlor stove, cabinet heater or similar unit, no matter how good looking it may be, depends for its success upon the fuel it uses. If it burns wood, you have the job of continually stocking the fire, and hauling out ashes. If it burns coal, you have your kindling coal and ashes.
But if it uses oil you are free forever from such labor, and from the dust, dirt and general messiness of coal or wood. Oil gives you controlled heat; you can keep your rooms at the proper temperature regardless of the weather outside. It gives you effortless heat—starting is quick and easy with a Silent Glow, and it requires no further attention other than regulating the size of the flame.

Everyone Asks How Do Autos Have "Knees"?

This has been the question which has been asked by almost everyone since the announcement that some of the largest companies in the automobile industry have made this so-called knee action available in their 1934 cars.
The diagrammatic illustration shown here explains the manner in which independent front springing of the Axleflex type gives the so-called knee action on the Terraplanes and Hudsons for 1934. By this method independent springing is secured without sacrificing the front axle, but the front wheels are permitted to rise and fall independently in a vertical plane. The action has been described as similar to that of an airplane landing gear.

To meet the ideal requirements of independent springing, gaining front end stability without sacrificing safety, control on sharp turns and preventing excessive wheel wobble and tire wear, independent action of the front wheels and springs must be confined to action in a vertical plane. This the Hudson engineers have accomplished in the Axleflex method.
In the Hudson Axleflex suspension the knee action is secured by an articulated front axle with a parallelogram which permits one side of the axle to rise and fall independently of the other. This method avoids the necessity of departing from the highly developed Hudson spring suspension which has been reached after many years of research. In fact, the inherent advantages of the Hudson type of spring suspension joined with the modern type of road leveling hydraulic shock absorber are even further realized, the result being a softer, more cushioned ride with a complete absence of front end bounce. No side unbalanced shock is transmitted to the frame as in other systems because the spring absorbs this type of shock with the Axleflex system.

The parallelogram which permits the Axleflex knee action consists of two rigid drop-forged links, pinned at both ends and mounted one above the other. These links have internally forged forks at their extremities through which the pins pass—a construction which permits the vertical action while positively maintaining alignment. The forks are provided with roller bearings preventing friction.
The entire change is contained in the front axle itself by this method. There is no alteration in the highly developed Hudson system of steering or spring suspension and the new Axleflex assembly can be substituted for the standard axle without alteration. The two are interchangeable.
In driving the car the owner will note a marked reduction in the road shock transmitted to the car in striking severe obstructions. Also because of the fact that one wheel only is affected by these obstructions, the amount of unsprung weight set in motion when a wheel passes over a stone or other inequality of the road surface is greatly reduced. This alone has a noticeable effect in improving the riding qualities as well as reducing tire wear.

By actual experience, which is after all the best test that can be applied, coke has been found to be a desirable type of fuel for use in domestic and other types of heating units.
Not only is it economical and efficient in operation, being easily controlled, but it burns to a fine ash, with practically no waste. That is, of course, if householders get the best quality of coke.
J. D. Fraser, located at 126 Newport street sells Guarantee No-Clinker Coke at $11.40 per ton. This satisfactory type of coke comes in convenient sizes, and possesses long burning qualities that highly recommend it for general use this winter.
If a dependable supply of heat is required, this kind of coke will be found to fill the bill in a satisfactory manner. It can be checked down to a surprisingly low minimum and yet, by simply opening the drafts, a considerable volume of warmth is readily obtainable.
Home owners who have burned coke in their furnaces and boilers regard it as the ideal winter fuel and the repeat orders on Guarantee No-Clinker Coke has convinced J. D. Fraser that residents of this locality like the product. Orders telephoned to Arlington 2635 receive prompt and careful attention.
Zero weather and howling winter winds hold no terror for the home owner whose bin is filled with Guarantee No-Clinker Coke, for the cold cannot dispel the warmth and cheer this fuel provides for those who are comfortably sheltered within walls so heated.

Boy Scout Notes

Troop 7 Camps in Below Zero Weather

That scouts know how to care for themselves in severe winter weather, and enjoy the experience is proved by the fact that a goodly number of scouts from Troop 7, under the leadership of Scoutmaster George R. Wright, Assistant Scoutmaster George Snell and Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Leo Murphy went to Camp Oak Tuesday, December 26, in the heavy snowstorm, and remained there until Saturday in spite of the very cold weather.

On the way to camp the scouts assisted many motorists who were stalled in the deep snow. It was fun, but a costly "good turn," because Mr. Wright and Mr. Snell ran out of gas on their return trip for the cars. However, the scouts had extra food supplies at camp. Mr. Wright and Mr. Snell hiked to Lexington, took a bus to Arlington to get another car, and returned late that evening with the food and extra clothing for some of the boys who were not supplied with over-shoes, etc.

Joseph Ahern, Jr., Paul Snell and Joseph Dimodica did the cooking and performed their duties well, while Mr. Wright made some of his well-known delicious pies.
On Wednesday winter sports were enjoyed, but on Thursday, as the mercury began to drop, the boys were kept busy cutting wood and more wood, and did not realize it was so cold. In the evening they listened to the radio, sang many songs, and told stories.

Early Friday morning someone looked at the thermometer and it was 22 degrees below. After breakfast they continued wood chopping for the fires in the cabin, which was comfortable at all times. During the night the mercury registered 24 degrees below and inside the cabin it was 60 degrees above.

Rev. Francis X. Bransfield, Troop Chaplain, and Dr. William F. Dolan visited the troop on Saturday as it was breaking camp and found everyone none the worse for the experience in spite of the sub-zero weather.

The scouts all agreed that the thrill of winter camping was over when the mercury rose to five degrees above at noon.

Those who made the trip were Joseph Ahern, S. P. L., Paul Snell, Joseph Dimodica, Francis O'Brien, Angelo Dimodica, John Dolan, Ralph Seabury, Paul Good, Donald and John Snell, also Scouts Caren and Snowden of Troop 19.

Prepare "Recovery" Delicacies Now

By Jane Rogers

SINCE a few years after the Pilgrims first landed on New England's rocky coast, a family board graining with special delicacies—sweets and others—has been the symbol of recovery and good cheer in America. Today recovery and future prosperity are on everyone's tongue, are in the very atmosphere of the nation, and the recovery of the nation is the recovery of the nation's health.
Fresh fruits are abundant and inexpensive. Sugar, too, is low in cost. Modern methods of preserving have cut down the time and work involved. Finally, the fruits are an important contribution to good health and stamina, for the sugar is a concentrated source of energy and the fruits themselves provide vitamins, minerals, and fiber.
The following are a few of the many ways in which the products of the orchard and garden, is the time to take your shelves with the wherewithal to add zest to winter meals.

Peach Butter
To 4 pounds of pared sliced peaches add 2 cups of water and cook carefully until peaches are soft. Force through a colander and measure. Allow two-thirds of a cup of sugar for every cup of sliced peaches. If you wish add a drop of oil of cloves and oil of cinnamon — but no more than a drop. Cook, watching that it does not burn, until of the desired consistency, then put in hot, sterilized jars and seal. It is not absolutely necessary to pare the peaches when making peach butter, but if

Ripe Grape Jam
4½ cups (2½ lbs.) prepared fruit
2 cups sugar
1/2 bottle pectin

To prepare fruit, slip skins from about 3 pounds fully ripe grapes, summer pulp, covered, 5 minutes. Remove seeds by sieving. Chop or pound skins and add to pulp. Add 2½ cups water and if desired, grated rind of 1 orange. Stir until mixture boils. Simmer, covered, 30 minutes. (Wild grapes, Malaga and other tight-skinned grapes may be stemmed, crushed whole, simmered with ½ cup water 30 minutes, sieved, and then measured. With tight-skinned grapes add juice of 1 lemon to water. Use 4 cups prepared fruit.)

Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in pectin. Pour quickly into glass jars. Cover with ¼-inch hot paraffin. When cool put on tin covers.

they have thick, fuzzy skins it is better.

Katherine Cummings Gives Eugene Permanents

Perhaps among your Christmas gifts you found a little present of money from someone who just couldn't think what to give and who wrote on the card, "Spend this for something for yourself." A fine way to spend this money would be on a permanent wave as done by the Katherine Cummings Beauty Shop. It surely would be something for yourself and would be a most enjoyable way of spending the money.

Eugene permanents are given at the Katherine Cummings Beauty Shop, which just recently opened at 166 Massachusetts Avenue, East Arlington. Before going in business for herself, Miss Cummings was associated with the West Beauty Parlor on Massachusetts Avenue.

Miss Mollie Dresse, an operator at the Katherine Cummings Beauty Shop, is an expert in all branches of beauty culture.
Shampooing, facial massage, finger waving, and manicuring are all done according to the latest methods, which means that every operation is scientifically performed which accounts for the uniform results obtained at this shop. You will thoroughly enjoy your next appointment if you call Katherine Cummings and arrange for a facial, a shampoo or a permanent wave. Telephone Arlington 4529 for an appointment.

Regent Alleys Solve Indoor Amusement Problem

Many persons have a proneness to grow "stale" in the winter. Life seems to lose much of its usual snap and glow, and appears to have degenerated into nothing but a routine of work, eat and sleep.

For the children, when the weather permits, there are coasting, skating and snow bailing to give life zest and fun, but for the man and woman who work all day and are not afforded those juvenile winter sports, there is little the season has to offer in the way of fun.

That is, unless they have learned of a sport that is the oldest and most satisfying of all recreations, bowling. Winter offers no obstacle to the enjoyment of this form of sport. Quite the contrary, winter months lend zest to the bowling.

If you have been feeling "down in the mouth" and "peppery" go to the Regent Bowling Alleys, 7-A Medford street, next to the Regent Theatre, and enjoy a sport that will bring color back to your cheeks, tone to your muscles and a general feeling of bodily fitness that has been lacking since cold weather has placed outdoor sports on the waiting list.

Efficient service and finest alleys lend added pleasure to the sport at the Regent Bowling Alleys. If you do not already know the joy of watching the pins tumble before a well aimed cast, learn the simple rules of this fascinating game at the Regent Bowling Alleys.

Bowling will lend a new joy to the winter months, and spring and summer will find you in perfect condition for outdoor sports, and you will not want to discontinue the luring game of bowling even then.

Bowling is open to women at the Regent Bowling Alleys and women's bowling parties can be accommodated at small cost.
W. H. Norton is now managing the Regent Bowling Alleys. He was formerly connected with the Hobbs Alleys in Somerville.

will be made within the next two or three weeks.
Trusting that this letter will give you the information you desire, I am

Sincerely yours,
Silliman Evans,
Fourth Assistant Postmaster
General.

Mr. Birch was asked by the Chamber to continue his efforts.

Charles F. McManus presided at the meeting. The secretary, Maurice Hatch, of the Arlington Gas Light Company, read his report.

The guest speaker was William G.
Andrew, assistant district attorney of the North District of Middlesex and his topic: "Law Enforcement."
Mr. Andrew gave a technical description of the procedure to bring about and carry on trials from the apprehension of the culprit to his indictment and the choosing of jurors.

Law enforcement, in the belief of the speaker, does not depend so much on the police as on the jurors. These should be men who will seek the truth and have courage to find the proper verdict.

"I Am the State"
In conclusion, he said that if citizens could be brought to the realization of the truth of the saying of the French king, "I am the State," as applied to them, this would mean law enforcement. It would mean that citizens would volunteer to testify in order to rectify a wrong.

The liveliness of the question period which followed Mr. Andrew's talk and the pertinence of the questions asked proved the interest with which it had been followed, and added much to the success of the meeting. In answer to the question whether a citizen should testify even if his life was threatened, Mr. Andrew pointed out that his life would be no more endangered than were those of the police, the district attorney and the judge who performs his duty. Reluctance in testifying, he believes, dates from the Sacco-Vanzetti case and he does not believe that the increase of fear can be traced to prohibition.

YEAR'S BUILDING PERMITS MORE THAN HALF MILLION

Building permits issued during 1933 by Inspector William E. Mason totalled more than half a million—$505,185.50, to be exact. There were 244 of these, as well as 696 plumbing permits and 519 gas permits. The building fell below that of 1932 when there were 262 permits valued at $603,268.00. However, the amount of the fees taken in was greater, being $1,946.25 and in 1932, $1,920.00. This was partly due to the larger number of gas permits and partly to the kinds of buildings for which permits were given.

The largest number of permits—68—was issued for single family dwellings with a value of $368,500, while but one permit was given for a double house, value $11,000. The largest single building permit was for St. John's church—$30,000.

The other permits are classified as follows: garages, 48, $17,100; additions and alterations, 39, $24,778.50;
filling stations, 4, $7,100; greenhouse,
1, $4,000; repair fire damages, 4, $14,400; store windows, 4, $3,550;
alter two stores into one, 2, $5,775; elevator wellway, 1, $3,300; boiler rooms, 2, $1,300; grandstand, 1, $3, 000; foundations for dwellings, 2, $2,525; piazzas, 15, $2,317; piazzas roofs, 8, $560; move one-family dwellings, 2, $1,075; move garage, 1, $50; sun parlors, 4, $1,275; vegetable stand, 2, $195; vegetable shed, 1, $50; tool house, 1, $125; alter one-family dwellings into two, 2, $750;
alter one-car garage into two, 1, $1, 000; dormer window, 1, $125; dressing room, 1, $75; fireworks stand, 1, $50; hen house, 1, $50; demolish one-family dwellings, 5, $650; demolish convent, 1, $200; demolish school, 1, $200; demolish buildings, 18, $1,010.

December building permits numbered eleven and were valued at $18,
150. They were as follows: dwellings, one-family, 2, $13,000; garages,
3, $1,350; addition and alteration, 1, $3,000; demolish barns, 2, $200; demolish one-family dwelling, 1, $50;
alter one-family dwelling into two,
1, $500; vegetable shed, 1, $50.

The number and value of permits for the other months of the year were as follows: January, 12, $28,000; Feb-

Lay Cornerstone of St. John's New Building

Last Sunday, following the morning service, members of St. John's church and its rector, Rev. Charles Taber Hall, gathered at the site of the building, that is now being erected on Pleasant street for the laying of the cornerstone. With them were several from the Orthodox Congregational church and its minister, Rev.
Laurence L. Barber.

Because of the inclement weather the ceremony was made as brief as possible. Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill read the service provided for such an occasion and spread the mortar over the stone, inside which is a copper box containing articles expected to prove interesting to those who open it in the future. The stone was put in place by the contractor, Mr.
Rounds of Stoneham.

The trowel which the bishop used is inscribed, "This trowel was used at the cornerstone laying of St.
John's church by Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill, Rev. Charles Taber Hall, rector." It is now being silver plated and will be placed in the new church.

The architect of the new building is A. C. Dirlam and the associate architect, George W. Chickering.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Curry held their usual open house New Year's eve at their home on Appleton street. Mrs.
H. H. Stinson of Cambridge, formerly of Arlington, who had usually been among the friends that gathered there, was absent since she had gone Saturday to the home of her sister in Binghamton, N. Y. At midnight her friends called her on the telephone to wish her a "Happy New year" and a pleasant trip to Florida.
She expects to drive there with her sister and to spend the winter at the Grand View Hotel in Eustis.

Start Endowment Fund For First Parish Church

With the collection taken at the morning service last Sunday morning at the First Parish church, an endowment fund for the church was started. This was the 201st anniversary of the founding of the church. The present minister, Rev.
John Nicol Mark, has remarked that if the founders of the church had put one hundred dollars in the bank for the church it would now own half of Arlington.

The sermon was preached by the minister emeritus, Dr. Frederic Gill, who took for his subject,
"Man's Place in the Universe." Dr.
Gill referred to the celebration of the two hundredth anniversary last year and said that it did not seem necessary to stress the event this year.

The development of highly stable vacuum-tube oscillator circuits has made it possible for laboratory and secure electrical and electro-mechanical systems which have practically constant frequency, angular velocity, or rotational period. For the measurement of the quantities mentioned above, many of the devices used for determining frequency are used. The devices described in this section are all synchronous-motor-driven clock trains, with the necessary accessories for adapting them to special problems. For example, a synchronous-motor-driven clock may be used as a source of precisely determined time intervals when driven by a standard fre-

In many lines of work and experimentation with alternating currents, the need is frequently felt for a simple, sensitive, portable, and inexpensive milligraph, with which one may deal with ease either sustained waveform or transient currents and voltage existing at any point in an electric circuit or network. To meet these requirements, there has been designed a compact and moderately

An appeal made the Animal Rescue League in regard to the ducks at Spy Pond was responded to in double-quick time. In fifteen minutes after the call was given, the president, Mr. Sellar, had made arrangements for his drivers to go to Arlington and care for the birds which were apparently starving and freezing. The men chopped a large hole through the ice, that the birds might have water, and also fed them. The League is a friend in need to all dumb creatures.
Special praise should be given Mr.
and Mrs. Louis C. Taylor of Wellington street for their tireless efforts in caring for these domesticated ducks during the recent severely cold weather.
